Captain and Mrs. T. J. Parker, U. S. A., and Lieutenant and Mrs. L. J. Baker, U. S. A., came down from Fort Huachuca yesterday morning and registered at the Montezuma hotel.

Superintendent of Bridges Fred Sterling, was in the city yesterday from the north end, where he has just completed two iron bridges for the N. M. & A. Mr. Sterling has been working in the cañon many months and says the end is not yet.

Mr. A. W. Sefton, Jr., late of the Tucson Star, accompanied by another knight of the stick and rule, arrived in the city yesterday from the old pueblo. The gentlemen are experienced newspaper men looking for a business location.

Hell! Hell! Is this the Red House? Yes, what can we do for you! Have you any of those fine ladies' shoes No. 4, "A"? Yes, and we are selling all our shoes at prices you can not duplicate in the east. We pay the freight. Our Mr. Vasquez does all the buying and our shoes sell them selves.

A large crowd of people went out to the rancho last Sunday to witness the game of baseball which was played by the Line City and the X Ray ainos. The Line City nine were easy winners but the X Ray boys say they can't do it again for money, chalk or marbles. Tomorrow the two nines will again cross bats, and an exciting game is promised.

Geo. Webb, the well-known U. S. customs inspector, left for the hills yesterday after a few days' stay in the city. Mr. Webb came in off the line with the intention of remaining in town about ten days, but city life did not agree with him and he soon lost his appetite and grew thin, so yesterday morning he departed for the hills where he says he will regain all he has lost and more too.

Spring is at hand and you no doubt are in need of light weight underwear. It will not cost you one cent to step into the Red House and inspect their big stock of spring and summer wear. Perhaps you do not know that the Red House carries the largest line of these things in the city. The goods and prices will astonish you.

The Red House is always abreast of the times. It never takes chances on being too late. Mr. Vasquez has taken time by the forelock and has purchased a large up-to-date line of spring and summer dress goods which he is selling at eastern prices. Why not patronize your home people instead of sending out of town for articles you can buy for the same money.

There came to the governor's office Monday the annual report of the major-general commanding the army. It is a full and complete history of the late war with Spain, containing between its covers official maps and reports of every action during the war. In a hasty glance through the work it is found on page 343 in the report made by Col. Leonard Wood while in the trenches at Santiago, written July 6, 1898, the following: "I desire to invite attention to the coolness, courage and gallantry of Captain William O'Neill, killed in action."

Mr. P. J. Zeimet, station agent at this point, who has been to Hermosillo, Minus Pricas and Guaymas on a sight-seeing tour, returned last Wednesday evening greatly pleased with things generally in our sister state across the border. Mr. Zeimet is loud in his praise of the treatment he received while south and says he met some of the most hospitable people on earth. He says, "I have been told that one could not get enough to eat in Sonora. While there I was offered the best of everything the markets afford and more too. Of course, one could not get a four dollar meal for fifty cents."

Judge Frank Duffy returned from Washington camp last Wednesday, where he had been to perform the legal part of an important mining deal, which conveyed the Pride of the West from Frank Olsen, of Washington camp, to Messrs. Arthur R. Wilcox and Emerson Geo. of Denver, Colorado. The price paid is not known in Nogales, but it is said there were five figures. Mr. Olsen's interest was a half, two other gentlemen holding the other half. This deal means a boom at Washington camp, for the Denver people will at once build a smelter and make things hum. Mr. Duffy says the camp is in a flourishing condition and that the Howland, is working full-handed and making its owner a neat pile.

Grand Jury Report.

The U. S. grand jury made its report this afternoon at 3 o'clock and was discharged. The report simply states the cases which came before the grand jury and the disposition of them by that body. There were three indictments against smugglers of mesquite, two upon charges of adultery, one for introducing liquor upon the reservation, two for selling liquor to Indians, one for forgery and one indictment against four Indians for violating the neutrality laws. It appears that these Indians organized a military body and left the reservation. Crossing the line into Mexico they proceeded to whip the entire populace of Sonora. They were fortunately caught in the act before the state suffered any great mortality.

The forgery indictment is against George T. Williams a soldier stationed at Fort Huachuca, who changed his enlistment papers.—Citizen.

Newer Mexico.

Within a very few years our Mexican neighbor has passed from a chronic state of revolution and political intrigue to a condition of bustling business activity, systematic internal improvement and unusual national progress. Never was the country in so healthful a condition as now; never were all the activities that make a people great so keenly employed; never has the country stood so high financially, industrially and morally. Much of this marked improvement is due to the sagacity and statesmanship of President Diaz, and an incalculable amount to the direct influence of the United States. The interests of our people are fast supplanting those of other nations, specially French and German. The spread of the English language is something remarkable; it is seen in its larger use in business transactions, in the increased importation of books and newspapers, and in the general desire for its acquisition among all classes. The Government has made primary education compulsory, and supports it liberally, even in the smallest towns. The generation now coming forward bears the impress of a new era, and shows the thorough absorption of American ideals.—Philadelphia Post.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a god-send to weak, sickly, rundown people. Only 50 cents. Sold by J. B. Mix & Co., Druggists, guaranteed.

Clippings.

Pima county stockmen are ar ranging to ship their feeders to the pasture fields of Colorado and Kansas. They can secure fine pasture for twenty cents per head per month, or $1 per head for the season. This is much better than they can do in Arizona, then they have their fattened beef near the market, which saves them much on transportation. Several thousand cattle will be shipped at once to the pasture fields of Colorado and Kansas and the stockmen will do their own selling to the butchers, thus avoiding the middle man and saving the profits for themselves.—Star.

Nogales is to have a new wagon road. It will pass through San Antonio Pass to the east side of Santa Cruz mountains, a distance of ten miles, to be constructed within 90 days, at a cost of $3,500 United States currency. The steepest grade is not to exceed 9 per cent, no grade of that height to exceed 250 feet in length. The people of Nogales are subscribing the money. Just such enterprise will make Nogales one of the largest cities in the Territory. The people pull together, help one another and are not afraid to take a chance with their money.—Phoenix Enterprise.

R. G. Brady has purchased 3,000 head of cattle from the ranches of Ramon Soto and Rosario Bros.

These cattle will be delivered in Tucson on the 15th of May. The price paid by Mr. Brady was the market price. It is thought that more cattle sales will be made now since the suspense has been broken so effectually by Mr. Brady. When the cattle begin to sell there will be some large deliveries and Tucson will feel the benefit which has been longer delayed this season than previous years. It is estimated that the cattle sales in this locality each year amount to $300,000 in the aggregate, and the holding back of the money from the channels of trade has affected the business interests of Tucson this spring.—Citizen.
